

We are looking for photos that give your view on what harm, crime and injustice mean. People who may have been directly affected by these issues are especially invited to enter and share their experiences.

Entries will be judged by an expert panel including award winning film maker Ken Loach and an exhibition of selected images will be held at 198 Contemporary Arts and Learning in Summer 2009. Prizes include a day on the picture desk at The Independent.

Supported by

PHOTOGRAPHY COMPETITION 2009

HARM... CRIME... INJUSTICE...

What does it look like to you?

Throw the spotlight on the many events that lead to injury and harm in society under one or more of the competition categories: ENVIRONMENT, FINANCE AND VIOLENCE

WHAT IS CRIME?

Violent events caused by businesses and the state; hidden violence against women, children and the elderly; the way in which poverty hurts, injures, and kills; the impact of environmental pollution - all of these rarely attract the same level of political and public concern as 'conventional' crime.

This competition invites entries which stimulate and challenge our view of harm, injustice and crime.

This competition is open to all.

CENTRE FOR CRIME AND JUSTICE STUDIES

Charity No. 251588 . Company No. 496821

The closing date for entry is 31st March 2009. Visit www.whatiscrime.org.uk to submit your images (online only) and find out more about the judges, exhibition and prizes.