

An audience with David Nutt

A Centre for Crime and Justice Studies event

Date: 11 November 2009

Venue: Central London

Time: 6.30pm

Professor Nutt, one of the most distinguished and respected experts on drugs in the world, was dismissed by the Home Secretary as chair of the Advisory Council on the Misuse of Drugs, supposedly for campaigning against government policy. This is an opportunity to hear from Professor Nutt his view on this and other matters linked to his paper published by the Centre.

This event will follow the meeting between the Home Secretary and the remaining members of the Advisory Council. The results of that meeting will no doubt impact on the nature of the discussion at this event.

Attendance at the meeting is free and on a first come, first served basis and we anticipate interest being high. If you would like to book a place please ensure that you email your name, job title/ profession and contact email to: events@crimeandjustice.org.uk

Sign up for the bulletin and join online at:

www.crimeandjustice.org.uk

With thanks to the Hadley Trust for their support
Please help us to continue to host events and promote research by becoming a member

THE HADLEY TRUST